

Columbia Regional Airport now offers great connections to destinations all over the world. Northwest Airlink makes three daily flights Monday through Saturday, and two flights daily on Sunday connecting us to the world. Save time, save money...check FlyMidMo.com first!

Why use the Columbia Regional Airport?

- From Memphis International Airport, Northwest Airlines can connect you to more than 90 non-stop destinations or more than 1,000 cities in 160 countries on six continents;
- Just one ticket is all you need, book your flight from Columbia to your destination;
- Parking is FREE, near the terminal and monitored by airport safety officers 24/7;
- Single security check-in and shorter lines;
- Save on drive time and fuel costs;
- Comfortable seating on a Saab 340 with on flight attendants and restroom facilities;
- Free Wi-Fi access in the terminal;
- Skyline Café Restaurant is open for breakfast and lunch;
- Hertz and Enterprise have convenient car rental service located in the main terminal; and
- The Airport is easy to find, just twelve miles south of I-70 off US Highway 63 on Route H.

Tickets information and flight schedules can be found online at www.FlyMidMo.com.

Commercial air service is very important to the Mid-Missouri community and to our business. I encourage you to use Columbia Regional Airport whether for personal or business travel. When your future plans call for flying, use COU as your airport code of choice.

Sincerely,